You worked hard to achieve your status in the real estate community, and you're proud that you are a Realtor.

Your business education doesn't stop there, though, and you need to keep abreast of the latest industry developments. One fast and painless way to stay on top of your ever-changing industry is to read real estate blogs, and we'll make it easy for you. Check out our list of the best real estate blogs that you should read in 2020.

C4D

We are a MN contract for deed company that has mastered the art of difficult home financing. Our clients—many that have recent bankruptcies, foreclosures, job loss, medical bill or even tax issues—are looking for a lender that understands the bad things that happen to good people. C4D's original and engaging articles offer wide-ranging advice from tax strategies to open house hacks.

ABODO Apartments

If you are interested in the apartment housing market, Abodo is the place to go for up to the minute rental rate information. Each month they analyze the entire national apartment rental scene, and their end-of-the-year wrap-up has been quoted in prestigious publications like The Washington Post.

Zillow Porchlight

You'll find real estate 101 here with quality blogs about interest rate trends, equity building strategies and what's happening in specific markets.

Keller Williams

Even if you don't work for this company you can certainly take advantage of their extensive real estate guides and valuable suggestions. Training, branding and of course all levels of real estate marketing are discussed in detail here.

Housing Wire
